

Bert Exter Keeps The Golden Bull

ALBUQUERQUE, March 27. AP — The Golden Bull, trophy that goes to the teller of the tallest tale at the annual Albuquerque Game Protective Association banquet, is right back on Bert Exter's mantle.

The Albuquerque undertaker won it for the second consecutive year last night over Kenneth C. Balcolm, Robert B. Bennett, Henry Davis and State Game Warden Elliott Barker, who was unable to be present but submitted his entry in the liar's contest by proxy.
