

MAY 16-18, 2019

WETLAND RESTORATION CREW LEADER TRAINING

At Rio Mora National Wildlife Refuge, New Mexico

Wildlands Restoration Volunteers, New Mexico Environment Department Wetlands Program, Albuquerque Wildlife Federation and wetland restoration expert Bill Zeedyk will offer a free 3-day workshop to train wetland restoration crew leaders. Trainees must demonstrate prior experience with wetland restoration and commit to leading a crew at a minimum of 2 planned volunteer work weekends (a complete list of scheduled events will be provided). Those with no prior restoration experience are invited to register for the Albuquerque Wildlife Federation's concurrent volunteer work weekend at Rio Mora National Wildlife Refuge.

FREE WORKSHOP

Develop your restoration leadership skills!

Workshop will cover:
Organization and management of volunteers
Building wetland restoration structures
Wetland restoration planting
Safety protocol

Workshop will provide:
Camping Accommodations
Food
Tools
Training Materials

Registration is open now

Please contact Morgan Crowley with Wildlands Restoration Volunteers at morgan@wlr.org, or (303) 543-1411 ext. 102